Dr Tony Ward is the primary author of Bridging Troubled Waters, with interviews conducted by Caz Coleman. He is a Fellow in the School of Historical & Philosophical Studies at Melbourne University, and has a PhD in Economic History from Monash University. He is the author of many publications on asylum seekers and the economy.

Russell Broadbent MP was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1990 for the seat of Corinella, and was successful in 1996 in gaining election to the seat of McMillan.

He is a strong advocate in the Party room and the Parliament for his local community and policy areas of interest.

The Yarra Institute for Religion & Social Policy began in 2008 to promote research projects on the interaction between religion and social policy. It was linked with the Melbourne College of Divinity until it instituted the new University of Divinity in Melbourne. The role of the Yarra Institute is being subsumed into the University Centre for Research on Religion & Social Policy, with Dr Gordon Preece as Research Director.
